Patriotic-Chic!

The Plantation Rug Company has been weaving their passion into exceptional rugs since the 1930s. Rich colours and intriguing textures shine through the ranges. Each rug is hand-crafted in a choice of fibres and designs that provoke the senses. Ranging from the boldly abstract in turbo-charged colours, to elegant traditional themes with a subtle, modern twist. With the 2012 Olympics soon to be upon us, The Plantation Rug Company has launched JACK - a Union Jack, one hundred per cent pure wool rug that offers consumers the ultimate in patriotic interior-chic. Interior Stylist, Jane Molloy has already given this rug her stamp of approval saying, "The 2012 Olympic games will see us turn into patriotic overdrive and the trend for all things red, white and blue will be a strong trend for our homes. This rug captures the patriotic essence and provides a design centrepiece of any home." JACK is available from September 2009 and comes in a range of three sizes, starting at £250 RRP.
